Report on the Consolidated Financial Statements

We have audited the accompanying consolidated financial statements of Genesis Health, Inc. and Affiliates, d/b/a Brooks Rehabilitation ("Brooks"), which comprise the consolidated balance sheets as of December 31, 2017 and 2016, and the related consolidated statements of operations, changes in net assets, and cash flows for the years then ended, and the related notes to the consolidated financial statements.

Management's Responsibility for the Consolidated Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these consolidated financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America; this includes the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of consolidated financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditors' Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these consolidated financial statements based on our audits. We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audits to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the consolidated financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditors' judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditors consider internal control relevant to Brooks' preparation and fair presentation of the consolidated financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of Brooks' internal control. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the consolidated financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Opinion

In our opinion, the consolidated financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Genesis Health, Inc. and Affiliates, d/b/a Brooks Rehabilitation as of December 31, 2017 and 2016, and the results of operations, changes in net assets, and cash flows for the years then ended, in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Supplementary Information

Our audits were conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the consolidated financial statements taken as a whole. The consolidating information in the supplemental schedules are presented for purposes of additional analysis of the consolidated financial statements rather than to present the financial position, results of operations, and changes in net assets of the individual entities and are not a required part of the consolidated financial statements. Such information is the responsibility of management and was derived from and relates directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the consolidated financial statements. The consolidating information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the consolidated financial statements and certain additional procedures, including comparing and reconciling such information directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the consolidated financial statements or to the consolidated financial statements themselves, and other additional procedures in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. In our opinion, the consolidating information is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the consolidated financial statements as a whole.

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

These consolidated financial statements, which are presented on the accrual basis of accounting, have been prepared to show Brooks as a whole, and to present balances and transactions according to the existence or absence of donor-imposed restrictions. This has been accomplished by classification of fund balances and transactions into three classes of net assets - permanently restricted, temporarily restricted, or unrestricted as follows:

- Permanently restricted net assets - Net assets subject to donor-imposed stipulations that they be maintained permanently by Brooks. Generally, the donor of these assets permits Brooks to use all or part of the income earned on related investments for general or specific purposes. There were no permanently restricted net assets as of December 31, 2017 and 2016.
- Temporarily restricted net assets - Net assets subject to donor-imposed stipulations that may or will be met by actions of Brooks and/or the passage of time.
- Unrestricted net assets - Net assets which represent resources generated from operations, unrestricted donations, lapse of temporary restrictions, and are not subject to donor-imposed stipulations.

Use of estimates

The preparation of these consolidated financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities as of the date of the consolidated financial statements, and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates and assumptions.

Cash and cash equivalents

Brooks considers cash, treasury bills, certificates of deposit, and other short-term investments with an original maturity of three months or less when purchased to be cash equivalents.

Investments

All investments in debt and marketable equity securities with readily determinable fair values are measured at fair value in the accompanying consolidated balance sheets. Investments in securities without readily determinable fair values are measured based on net asset value per share ("NAV") as a practical expedient for fair value. Investment income or loss (including unrealized and realized gains and losses on investments, interest, and dividends) is included in the excess of revenues over expenses for trading securities unless the income or loss is restricted by donor or law.

Assets limited as to use

Assets limited as to use include assets held by trustees under indenture agreements and board restricted funds for self-insurance trust arrangements. Assets limited as to use consist of cash and cash equivalents and fixed income mutual funds which are classified as trading securities and stated at fair value.

Charitable gift annuity

During 1991, the Foundation entered into a gift annuity program known as a Section 170 plan. The Foundation charitable gift annuity program stopped receiving additional gifts during 2010. The gift annuity program is a general obligation of the Foundation. The annuities are not issued by an insurance company, are subject only to limited regulation by the State of Florida, and are not protected or otherwise guaranteed by any government agency. The Foundation is contractually obligated to make annuity payments to its gift annuitants regardless of investment performance or current market conditions. The liabilities are discounted using the expected rate of return of the related investments which amounted to approximately 6% for the years ending December 31, 2017 and 2016. The estimated liability for these gift annuities, which are reflected in other non-current liabilities, amounted to approximately $2,215,000 and $2,198,000 as of December 31, 2017 and 2016, respectively.

Genesis Health, Inc. And Affiliates d/b/a Brooks Rehabilitation
Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

Contributions and pledges

Unconditional promises to give cash and other assets are reported at fair value at the date the promise is executed. Conditional promises to give and indications of intentions to give are reported at fair value at the date the condition is met and the gift is executed.

Property and equipment

Property and equipment have been recorded at historical cost at the date of acquisition or fair market value at the date of donation. Brooks capitalizes assets with a minimum cost or fair value of $500 and a minimum useful life of two years. Assets are depreciated using the straight-line method over their estimated useful lives. Major asset classifications and useful lives are consistent with those recommended by the American Hospital Association as follows:

Land improvements	5 – 10 years
Buildings and improvements	20 – 40 years
Equipment	3 – 15 years

Losses and gains on disposal of property and equipment are recorded in other operating expenses on the consolidated statements of operations in the year of disposal.

Capitalized interest

Interest costs incurred on borrowed funds during the period(s) of capital asset construction are capitalized as a component of the cost of acquisition and were approximately $430,000 and $633,000 for the years ended December 31, 2017 and 2016, respectively.

Debt issuance costs

Debt issuance costs are amortized over the term of the related debt using the effective interest method. Amortization of debt issuance costs is included in interest expense on the consolidated statements of operations for the years ended December 31, 2017 and 2016.

Unamortized debt issuance costs of approximately $2,033,000 and $1,910,000 are included as a reduction of the related debt on the consolidated balance sheets at December 31, 2017 and 2016, respectively.

Bond discount and premium

Bond discount and premium are amortized over the term of the related debt using the effective interest method. Amortization of the bond discount and premium are included in interest expense on the consolidated statements of operations for the years ended December 31, 2017 and 2016.

Unamortized bond discounts of approximately $1,163,000 and $3,060,000 at December 31, 2017 and 2016, respectively, are recorded as a reduction of the related debt, and the premium of approximately $10,876,000 at December 31, 2017 is recorded as an increase of the related debt on the consolidated balance sheets.

Intangible assets

Intangible assets primarily represent the estimated fair value of the certificate of need licensures and non-compete agreements acquired directly or through Brooks' acquisitions. Brooks amortizes the cost of intangible assets with finite useful lives over their respective estimated useful lives. Brooks amortizes the certificate of need licenses that are in service over a period of approximately 40 years once placed in service. Non-compete agreements are amortized over the life of the agreement. The value of these intangible assets were approximately $9,125,000 and $12,509,000 at December 31, 2017 and 2016, respectively.

Intangible assets are tested annually for impairment, or when a possible impairment is indicated. At the end of 2017, Brooks elected to discontinue the use of a trademark acquired in 2015 with the purchase of a home health agency. The impairment loss of $2,977,000 is included in the accompanying consolidated statement of operations within other operating expenses. There was no impairment charge for the year ended December 31, 2016.

Goodwill

Goodwill is the excess of Brooks' purchase price over the fair value of the net assets of acquired businesses. In accordance with authoritative bodies, Brooks no longer amortizes goodwill as of January 1, 2010. Goodwill is subject to at least an annual assessment for impairment by applying a fair-value based test. Brooks compares the fair value of each reporting unit with its carrying amount to determine if there is a potential impairment of goodwill. If the fair value of the reporting unit is less than its carrying value, an impairment loss would be recorded to the extent that the fair value of the goodwill within the reporting unit is less than its carrying value.

There is no impairment charge for goodwill for the years ended December 31, 2017 and 2016.

Derivative financial instruments

Brooks has entered into interest rate swap agreements as part of its interest rate risk management strategy. These agreements are accounted for under the provisions of Financial Accounting Standards Board ("FASB") Accounting Standards Codification ("ASC") Section 815, Derivatives and Hedging. FASB ASC 815 establishes accounting and reporting standards requiring that derivative instruments be recorded at fair value as either an asset or liability.

For derivative instruments that are designed and qualify as a cash flow hedge (i.e., hedging the exposure of variability in expected future cash flows that is attributable to a particular risk), the effective portion of the gain or loss on the derivative instrument is reported as a component of unrestricted net assets. The ineffective component, if any, is recorded in excess of revenues over expenses in the period in which the hedge transaction affects earnings. If the hedging relationship ceases to be highly effective or it becomes probable that an expected transaction will no longer occur, gains or losses on the derivative are recorded in excess of revenues over expenses. For derivative instruments not designated as hedging instruments, the unrealized gain or loss is recognized in other gains (losses) during the period of change.

Brooks is exposed to credit loss in the event of nonperformance by the counterparty in relation to its interest rate swap agreements. Management believes that the counterparty will be able to fully satisfy its obligations under the agreement. Credit exposure exists in relation to all of Brooks' financial instruments, and is not unique to derivatives.

Income taxes

Brooks is comprised of not-for-profit corporations as described in Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code ("IRC") and is exempt from federal income taxes on related income pursuant to Section 501(a) of the IRC. Holdings is a for-profit holding corporation which is the parent company for Brooks' for-profit businesses. As Holdings has accumulated federal net operating loss carryforwards ("NOLs") of approximately $11,428,000 for federal income taxes and $24,242,000 for Florida state income taxes, no amounts have been reflected as tax liabilities on the accompanying consolidated balance sheets as of December 31, 2017. Due to uncertainties as to future utilization of these NOLs, no amounts have been recorded as a deferred tax asset. Brooks has determined that it does not have any material unrecognized tax benefits or obligations as of December 31, 2017.

Estimated self-insurance liabilities

Brooks is self-insured and retains a portion of the risk for certain employee health insurance claims, workers' compensation claims, and professional liability claims. The provision for estimated employee health insurance claims, workers' compensation and professional liability claims includes estimates of the ultimate costs for both reported claims and claims incurred but not reported. The estimated self-insurance liabilities, included in other liabilities and accrued expenses on the consolidated balance sheets, include the estimate of the self-insured portion on employee health insurance, workers' compensation and professional liability claims. Brooks also maintains an incurred but not reported reserve for each self-insurance category.

Genesis Health, Inc. And Affiliates d/b/a Brooks Rehabilitation
Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

Compensated absences

Brooks accrues for compensated absences according to the authoritative bodies, which dictates a liability exists for an employee's compensation of future absences if all of the following conditions are met: a) an obligation exists for services rendered; b) the obligation relates to rights that vest or accumulate; c) payment is probable, and d) the amount can be reasonably estimated. For the years ended December 31, 2017 and 2016, Brooks has accrued approximately $3,132,000 and $3,052,000, respectively, related to compensated absences, which is classified as accounts payable and accrued expenses on the consolidated balance sheets.

Impairment of long-lived assets

Management regularly evaluates whether events or changes in circumstances have occurred that could indicate impairment in the value of long-lived assets. In accordance with authoritative bodies, if there is an indication that the carrying amount of an asset is not recoverable, Brooks estimates the projected undiscounted cash flows from the use and eventual disposition of the asset to determine if an impairment loss should be recognized. The amount of impairment loss, if any, is determined by comparing the historical carrying value of the asset to its estimated fair value.

In addition to consideration of impairment upon the events or changes in circumstances described above, management regularly evaluates the remaining estimated useful lives of its long-lived assets. If estimates are revised, the carrying value of affected assets is depreciated or amortized over the remaining estimated useful lives. There are no impairments or changes in estimated useful lives for the years ended December 31, 2017 and 2016.

Other investments

Profits and losses on other equity investments have been recorded using the consolidation method for investments in which Brooks has an ownership interest of more than 50% or exercises control. The equity method is used for investments in which Brooks has a 20% or greater ownership and does not control the organization. The cost method is used for all investments not measured at fair value in which Brooks has an ownership interest of less than 20%.

Net patient service revenue and patient receivables, net

Brooks has agreements with third-party payors that provide for payments at amounts different than established rates. Payment arrangements include prospectively determined rates per discharge, reimbursed costs, discounted charges, and per diem payments. Net patient service revenue is reported at the estimated net realizable amounts due from patients, third-party payors and others for services rendered, including estimated retroactive adjustments under reimbursement agreements with third-party payors. Retroactive adjustments are estimated and accrued in the period the related services are rendered and adjusted in future periods as final settlements are determined.

The estimate for doubtful accounts is provided in an amount equal to the estimated losses to be incurred in collection of the receivables and is based on historical collection experiences and a review of the current status of the existing receivables.

Contract service revenue

Contract service revenue is reported at the estimated net realizable amounts due from hospitals and health systems for contract management and rehabilitative services.

Charity care

Brooks provides care to patients who meet certain criteria under its charity care policy without charge. Such patients are identified based on financial information obtained from the patient and subsequent analysis. Because Brooks does not pursue collection of amounts determined to qualify as charity care, they are not reported as net patient service revenue.

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

Functional expense

Brooks does not present expense information by functional classification because their resources and activities are primarily related to providing healthcare services. Further, since Brooks receives substantially all of its resources from providing healthcare services in a manner similar to a business enterprise, other indicators contained in these consolidated financial statements are considered important in evaluating how well management has discharged its stewardship responsibilities.

Excess of revenues over expenses

The consolidated statements of operations include excess of revenues over expenses as Brooks' performance indicator. As is consistent with industry practice, changes in unrestricted net assets, including the fair value change of effective interest rate swaps, change in noncontrolling interest, and contributions of long-lived assets are excluded from excess of revenues over expenses.

Brooks' consolidated statements of operations distinguish between operating and nonoperating revenues, gains, other support and expenses. Operating revenues, gains, other support and expenses include transactions deemed by management to be ongoing, major, or central to the provision of healthcare services. Net unrealized investment gains (losses), change in fair value of ineffective interest rate swaps and certain peripheral or incidental transactions are reported as nonoperating activities.

Concentrations of credit risk

Brooks maintains its cash and cash equivalents with several large financial institutions. All accounts at each financial institution are guaranteed by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation ("FDIC") up to $250,000 per financial institution. Brooks has cash deposits which exceed the federally insured deposited amount. Management does not anticipate nonperformance by any of the financial institutions.

Reclassifications

Certain 2016 consolidated financial statement amounts have been reclassified to conform to the 2017 consolidated financial statement presentation.

New accounting standards

In 2015, the FASB issued Accounting Standards Update 2015-07, Fair Value Measurement (Topic 820): Disclosures for Investments in Certain Entities that Calculate Net Asset Value per Share (or Its Equivalent). The ASU removes certain disclosures and the requirement to categorize within the fair value hierarchy investments for which fair value is measured using NAV as a practical expedient as provided by ASC 820, Fair Value Measurement. The ASU is effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2016, with early adoption permitted. The ASU should be applied retrospectively to all periods presented. Brooks elected to early adopt the provisions of ASU 2015-07 effective January 1, 2016.

2. Fair Value Measurements

Fair value is defined as the "exit price", the amount that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants as of the measurement date. As such, fair value is a market-based measurement that should be determined based on assumptions that market participants would use in pricing an asset or liability.

As a basis for considering assumptions, authoritative guidance establishes a three-tier fair value hierarchy, which prioritizes the inputs used in measuring fair value as follows:

- Level 1 includes observable inputs which are inputs that market participants would use in valuing the asset or liability and are developed based on market data obtained from sources independent of Brooks, in an active market with sufficient volume and frequency of transactions.

Genesis Health, Inc. And Affiliates d/b/a Brooks Rehabilitation

- Level 2 includes inputs other than quoted prices included within Level 1 that are observable for the instruments such as quoted prices for similar instruments in active markets, quoted prices for identical or similar instruments in markets with insufficient volume or infrequent transactions (less active markets) or model-driven valuations in which significant inputs are observable or can be derived principally from, or corroborated by, observable market data, including market interest rate curves, referenced credit spreads and pre-payment rates.
- Level 3 includes financial instruments derived from unobservable inputs for which there is little or no market data, which require Brooks to develop its own assumptions and use valuation techniques including pricing models and discounted cash flow models in which one or more significant inputs are unobservable, including Brooks' own assumptions.

The guidance for measuring assets and liabilities at fair value is based on one or more of three valuation techniques. The three valuation techniques are as follows:

- The market approach generates prices and other relevant information by market transactions involving identical or comparable assets or liabilities;
- The cost approach takes the amount that would be required to replace the service capacity of an asset (i.e., replacement cost); and
- The income approach uses techniques to convert future amounts to a single present amount based on market expectations (including present value techniques, option-pricing models, and lattice models).

On a recurring basis, Brooks is required to measure trading securities at fair value. The fair values of trading securities are determined based on quoted market prices in active markets and based upon the marketability of those assets or model-based valuation techniques for which all significant assumptions are observable in the market or can be corroborated by observable market data. Each series of cash flows is discounted by market rates of interest.

Brooks invests in certain investments for which quoted prices are not available in active markets for identical instruments. When available, Brooks utilizes the NAV provided by the administrator of the fund as a practical expedient to estimate fair value. This practical expedient would not be used if it were determined to be probable that the fund will sell the investment for an amount different from the reported NAV. These investments are not required to be classified within a level on the fair value hierarchy.

There were no changes during the years ended December 31, 2017 and 2016 to Brooks' valuation techniques used to measure asset and liability fair values on a recurring and nonrecurring basis.

Interest rate swaps are valued using both observable and unobservable inputs, such as quotations received from the counterparty, dealers or brokers, whenever available and considered reliable. In instances where models are used, the value of the interest rate swap depends upon the contractual terms of, and specific risks inherent in, the instrument as well as the availability and reliability of observable inputs. Such inputs include market prices for reference securities, yield curves, credit curves, measures of volatility, prepayment rates, assumptions for nonperformance risk and correlations of such inputs. The interest rate swaps have inputs which can generally be corroborated by market data and are therefore classified within Level 2.

Assets and liabilities are classified in their entirety based on the lowest level of input that is significant to the fair value measurement. Brooks' assessment of the significance of a particular input to the fair value measurement requires judgment, and may affect the valuation of fair value assets and liabilities and their placement within the fair value hierarchy levels.

Further information on investments measured at NAV is summarized below:

Brooks recognizes transfers between the levels as of the beginning of the reporting period. There were no gross transfers between the levels for the years ended December 31, 2017 and 2016.

The preceding methods described may produce a fair value calculation that may not be indicative of net realizable value or reflective of future values. Furthermore, although Brooks believes its valuation methods are appropriate and consistent with other market participants, the use of different methodologies or assumptions to determine the fair value of certain financial instruments could result in a different fair value measurement at the reporting date.

4. Net Patient Service Revenue

Brooks has agreements with third-party payors that provide for reimbursement at amounts different from its established rates. Brooks is reimbursed for inpatient services under the Medicare Prospective Payment System methodology based on diagnosis related case mix groups. Inpatient, outpatient, and skilled nursing services provided to Medicaid program beneficiaries by Brooks are reimbursed based upon a cost reimbursement methodology. Under the cost reimbursement methodology, Brooks is reimbursed at a tentative rate with final settlement determined after submission of annual cost reports by Brooks and audits by the Medicare and Medicaid fiscal intermediary. Outpatient services rendered to Medicare program beneficiaries, BHD Medicaid beneficiaries and physician services are reimbursed according to prospectively determined fee schedules. The Medicare and Medicaid combined utilization rate for years December 31, 2017 and 2016 was approximately 53%. Laws and regulations governing the Medicare and Medicaid programs are complex and subject to interpretation. As a result, there is at least a reasonable possibility that recorded estimates associated with these programs will change by a material amount in the near term.

Brooks' Medicare cost reports for all years through 2016 have been filed. The Medicare cost reports for all years through 2015 have been examined and final settlements have been determined by the governmental agency intermediary. Brooks' Rehabilitation Medicaid cost reports for all years through 2016 have been filed. The cost reports for all years through 2014 have been examined and final settlements have been determined by the governmental agency intermediary. For Brooks Skilled Nursing, cost reports were filed, and a review of the 2014 cost report is being completed. An adjustment of approximately $136,000 was made in 2016 to net patient revenue related to Brooks Skilled Nursing for the rates provided from the 18 month Medicaid cost report. There were no other significant adjustments recorded as a change in net patient service revenue related to third-party settlements for prior years in 2017 or 2016.

Brooks has also entered into reimbursement agreements with certain commercial insurance carriers, health maintenance organizations and preferred provider organizations. The bases for reimbursement under these agreements include prospectively determined rates-per-discharge, discounts from established charges, prospectively determined per-diem rates and fee schedules.

6. Land Held for Development

In November 2015, BHS purchased a parcel of land in Clay County, Florida for future use. The acquisition cost was approximately $5,225,000 and was financed through lines of credit (Note 8). During 2017 and 2016, additional costs of approximately $943,000 and $104,000, respectively, were incurred related to this land parcel.

BHS also holds land for future development in Southern Duval County, Florida, which was purchased in 2005. The recorded value of the undeveloped land as of December 31, 2017 and 2016 is approximately $16,817,000.

During 2017, there were no triggering events that would require BHS to test these parcels of land for impairment.

The carrying value of land held for development as of December 31, 2017 and 2016 is approximately $23,089,000 and $22,146,000, respectively.

At the end of 2017, Brooks elected to discontinue the use of the AmeriCare trade name and recorded an impairment loss of $2,977,000, which is included in the accompanying consolidated statement of operations within other operating expenses for the year ended December 31, 2017.

10. Benefit Plans

Brooks maintains a defined contribution plan (the "Plan") for substantially all full-time employees. The annual contribution under the Plan is based on a fixed percentage of salary of 3%, with an additional matching contribution made by Brooks for a portion of the voluntary employee contributions, subject to limits which begins after one year of service. Upon completion of the one year waiting period, step vesting occurs at 20% per year. The contribution expense under the Plan amounted to approximately $3,728,000 and $3,387,000 for the years ended December 31, 2017 and 2016, respectively.

Forfeitures are taken to offset employer contributions; if there are not enough contributions in the applicable Plan, forfeitures are not taken. Forfeitures may also be used to offset and pay the cost of administration fees. Forfeitures amounted to approximately $197,000 and $211,000 for the years ended December 31, 2017 and 2016, respectively.

13. Pledges Payable

Brooks will periodically contribute funds to local, not-for-profit organizations.

In 2015, Brooks pledged to give $2,750,000 to Jacksonville University ratably over a five year period to continue the build-out and support of the viability of the Brooks Rehabilitation Speech-Pathology Program, including the hiring of new faculty, development, advancement, and laboratory resources for faculty and students, branding and research and development, and other support. It also was used for the expansion of the 2016 undergraduate Speech-Language Pathology distance learning degree to include branding and faculty recruitment; launch of the Masters in Health Informatics on campus and online; launch of Masters in Mental Health Counseling; launch of Masters in Kinesiology; development of a cohort program under the clinical leadership, management, clinical sciences plan; and the development of Science and Technology Labs in the College of Arts and Sciences.

This will be paid in equal installments over the next five years. This program was designed for students planning careers as speech-language pathologists with a primary goal to develop professionals who are knowledgeable and skilled in the assessment, diagnosis, and treatment of speech, voice, swallowing, language, and cognitive disorders with emphasis on the practice of medical speech-language pathology.

In 2012, Brooks pledged to give $2,500,000 to local healthcare organizations over a period of six years in order to fund programs that would improve healthcare and outcomes for the common patient population. These programs ultimately focus on reducing hospital readmissions, preserving independence and quality of life in the elderly, and maintaining excellence in orthopedic surgery and rehabilitation.

All other pledges made are to organizations that align their values and mission with those of Brooks.

The portion that is to be paid within one year is recorded in other current liabilities on the consolidated balance sheet, and the remaining amount is held in other liabilities on the consolidated balance sheet.

Pledges made in 2015 are recorded at a discount rate of 1.02% that is amortized over the period of the pledge. Pledges made during 2013 are recorded at a discount rate of 1.04% that is amortized over the period of the pledge. 16. Financial Assistance

Brooks maintains records to identify and monitor the level of charity care it provides. These recorded amounts include the amount of charges forgone for services and supplies furnished under its charity care policy. The estimated total cost of charity care provided was approximately $2,728,000 and $2,368,000 for the years ended December 31, 2017 and 2016, respectively. The total cost estimate is based on total direct and indirect costs per equivalent service statistic.

Un-sponsored community benefit

Community benefit is a planned, managed, organized and measured approach to a health care organization's participation in meeting identified community health needs. It implies collaboration with a "community" to "benefit" its residents, particularly the poor and other underserved groups, by improving health status and quality of life. Community benefit projects and services are identified by health care organizations in response to findings of a community health assessment, strategic, and/or clinical priorities and partnership areas of attention.

Community benefit categories include financial assistance, community health services, health professions education, research and contributions. Brooks has policies providing financial assistance for patients requiring care but who have limited or no means to pay for that care. These policies provide free or discounted health and health-related services to persons who qualify under certain income and asset assistance; they are not reported as net patient service revenue. Brooks maintains records to identify and monitor the level of financial assistance it provides.

In addition to financial assistance, Brooks provides benefits for the broader community. The cost of providing these community benefits can exceed the revenue sources available. Examples of the benefits provided by Brooks and general definitions regarding those benefits are described below:

- Community health services include activities carried out to improve community health. They extend beyond patient care activities and are usually subsidized by the health care organization. Examples include community health education, counseling and support services.
- Health professions education includes education provided in clinical settings such as internships and programs for physicians, therapists, nurses and allied health professionals.
- Research includes unreimbursed studies focused on the rehabilitation and human performance needs of individuals with disabling conditions.
- Contributions and other support include funds benefiting the community-at-large.

Brooks' valuation of financial assistance provided and actual expenses incurred, net of funds received, related to the benefits for the broader community for the years ended December 31 are as follows:

	2017	2016
Financial assistance provided (net of government support)	$ 2,727,646	$ 2,368,252

17. Contingencies

Professional liabilities

Brooks is involved in litigation and claims arising from the ordinary course of business. Claims alleging malpractice have been asserted against Brooks and are currently in various stages of litigation. Brooks insures its malpractice risk on a claims-made basis.

Coverage limits for the policies are $1,000,000 per occurrence and $3,000,000 in the aggregate. There is a self-insurance retention limit per claims of: $500,000 – Hospital, $100,000 – Skilled Nursing, and $50,000 – Home Health. As of December 31, 2017 and 2016, respectively, Brooks has recorded approximately a $1,257,000 and $1,343,000 liability in other liabilities on the consolidated balance sheets for its estimated losses.

Workers compensation insurance

The self-insurance fund is reported in assets limited as to use in the accompanying consolidated balance sheets and includes the estimate of self-insured claims for workers' compensation.

Brooks has recorded approximately $621,000 and $603,000 in non-current other liabilities on the consolidated balance sheets for its estimated workers compensation losses at December 31, 2017 and 2016, respectively.

Health Insurance

Beginning January 2011, Brooks became self-insured for health and medical coverage for its employees. Amounts contributed by Brooks and its employees to the plan are determined by the level of benefits coverage selected by each employee. Expenses related to the self-insured health and medical plan for the years ended December 31, 2017 and 2016, were approximately $10,661,000 and $9,360,000, respectively. The estimated claims incurred, payments on claims, and the balance of the reserve for health insurance claims for the years ended December 31, 2017 and 2016 were as follows:

	2017	2016
Claims liabilities, January 1	$ 1,041,127	$ 829,426
Expense	10,660,744	9,359,865
Claim payments	(10,394,005)	(9,148,164)
Claims liabilities, December 31	$ 1,307,866	$ 1,041,127

It is the opinion of management that its insurance coverages and self-insurance liabilities at December 31, 2017 and 2016 are adequate to provide for potential losses resulting from outstanding claims and pending or threatened litigation.
